DEDICATION..

TO EDNA REICHMUTH:

who, expecting neither praise nor acknowledgment, gives generously of both her time and her talent to the end that the many projects undertaken by the students shall have artistic distinction.

MR. BRYAN AT WORK

Mr. Bryan's

California is now celebrating the first of three great centennials. This year it is the discovery of gold. 1949 will commemorate the migration of thousands of people to this state, from other parts of the United States and from other nations, a movement that is commonly known as the Gold Rush. In 1950 California will have its one hundredth birthday party. These are important events in our state and they give us a motive for studying and thinking about the heritage that is ours.

When gold was discovered, thousands of brave, adventuresome, active, and energetic men poured into California. They overcame untold dangers on the long journey and suffered many hardships in the new land. They set great value upon the qualities of courage, self-reliance, and generosity. Past position, fortune, or previous social connections counted for little in the early history of our State. A man was accepted for what he was and then had to prove that he possessed in his own character the desired qualities. Thus the early character of California was molded by the Argonauts, who expressed the spirit of the American frontier.

In addition to the spirit of the early pioneers we have the heritage of a fair and fertile land with rich and varied resources. We have mountains, valleys, rivers, forests, deserts, and a vast deposit of oil. We have a most favorable climate and our scenery is so attractive that thousands of tourists come to our state every year. Our agricultural products are now shipped to all parts of the world and our manufacturing concerns have grown until they are now an important asset.

It is our duty to see that the natural resources of our state, so rich when the pioneers first came, do not disappear as they have in other areas. We must make sure that the soil is not washed away from our fields and that the mountain slopes remain protected by the forests, so that our water supply is maintained. Our three centennial years should reawaken in us a desire to know more about our state and to rededicate ourselves to the preservation of its heritage.

I want to express my thanks and appreciation to Mrs. Shepherd, faculty adviser, to Frank Harradine, editor, Duncan Tonningsen, business manager, and the members of the ACORN staff for the splendid way in which they have handled the publication of this ACORN.

APPRECIATIONS . . .

The Acorn staff is greatly indebted to a number of people who have willingly given their time and effort that this book might be published:

To Mr. Bryan who was always willing to help.

To Mr. Bell for his assistance with the lower classmen.

To Mr. Kerwin of the Oakland National Engraving Company for his much needed help with the photographic layouts and the fine job of photoengraving.

To Mr. Franklin Cummings for helping us with the dedication.

To Mr. Hooper and the Hooper Printing Company for the excellent job of printing.

To Mr. Dobus of Dobus Studios for the good work on senior portraits and group pictures.

To Bushman and the Bushman-Risin Company for the beautiful cover.

To Mrs. Hall, Miss Powers and Mr. Shriber for the details and records they gave us.

To Lynn Hildeman and Charles Borgia who spent all their spare time taking pictures.

To all those who contributed snap-shots and suggestions.

SILAS THE

CHORE BOY

Miss Marian Los Kamp . . .

DEAR RUTH

SILAS THE CHORE BOY

Of all the Senior Plays presented in the last few years "SILAS THE CHORE BOY" was one of the most unusual. It was a revival of an old melodrama complete with hero, heroine and villain, made lively by a background of home spun comedy and musical olio acts. Silas furnished an evening of entertainment that delighted capacity audiences.

The cast of characters include the following: Joanne Bernard as Nancy Ridley, Hart Smith as Silas the Chore Boy, Herman Schmeling as Jed Perkins, Bonnie Streat as Pert, Ronald Crook as Hiram, Terry Reed as Arthur Ridley, Wally Rooks as Cinch, and Frank Harradine as Gerald Blake. Others in the cast were George Pells, Sam Jaber, Wayne Leslie, Bill Parks, Betty Tompkinson, Rosemary Kudrna, Dot Rokusek, June Worster, Barbara Villa, Ralph Jackson, Clarence Vernon, Marguerite Edelman, Bruce Barber, Connie Dunford, Barbara Noia, Pat Gripon, Gloria Shadle, Carolyn Christian.

DEAR RUTH

"Dear Ruth," one of the most light hearted comedies to come out of the last war, delighted audiences with its gay, fast moving comedy. The plot revolves around a patriotic young girl who writes letters in her sister's name to cheer a lonely soldier who suddenly appears to claim the sister as his bride just after she has announced her engagement to another.

The cast consisted of the following: Florence Dobson as Dora, Norma Smith as Edith Wilkins, Eleanor Wales as Miriam Wilkins, Howard Cumming as Harry Wilkins, Le Nore Wilson as Ruth Wilkins, Harry Howell as Lt. Bill Seawright, Bill Kenny as Albert Kummer, Gloria Maimone as Martha Seawright, Al Bentham as Harold Klobbermeyer, Joe Tortorico as Sgt. Chuck Vincent.

Alameda's fourth place in the '48 football race marked the third consecutive season the Hornets have been in the first division. This feat stands as a tribute to Coach "Soc" Socolofsky, who took the reigns of the faltering, hard luck club and lead it to a near championship and two strong finishes.

In football, as in the other sports, the departure of seniors will be sorely felt; but Coach Socolofsky will have several key returners with which to build his '49 club.

Coach Hank Jones has turned out another championship basketball team—his fifth in six years. Paced by All-A.C.A.L. Forward Jack Foster and All-A. C. A. L. Guard Rich Gaxiola, the basketball team led the race from beginning to end and cinched the title in the final game against El Cerrito. The Hornets proved themselves to be great champs when they played to the semi-finals of the Championship Tournament in San Francisco.

Depending upon the strength of individual stars and their wise coach, Lewis Jolly, the Alameda cindermen have produced a very eventful season. The future looks bright, for the loss of the seniors will be more than compensated for by the returning, seasoned underclassmen, who in the following season will be eyeing the A. C. A. L. Championship crown.

The baseball squad, under the capable direction of Coach Chet Millett, started the season well, and appeared destined to be in the first division at the season's end. Possessing plenty of power and depth, the Hornets' only glaring weakness was filling the hole at shortstop with a capable fielder.

Coach Millett, although losing fourteen seniors, has nine returners to use as a nucleus for the '49 club.

Faculty Adviser—MISS ISABEL VENARD

At the close of school on the second Thursday of each school month of this year, a large number of students of Spanish have come to the meetings of the Spanish Club.

Congratulations are due to all who have made this year's Spanish Club a success.

The C. S. F.

The first social affair of the year was a CSF house party at the home of the adviser in October. At this gathering Mr. and Mrs. Saunders gave an account of their trip to the Hawaiian Islands by air last summer. Craig Fisher and Mrs. Saunders rendered several delightful numbers on the piano. This was followed by games and refreshments.

This spring the CSF group attended the opera, "La Traviata" in San Francisco. A few weeks later about thirty members of the chapter went to Centerville in the school bus to the CSF Student Conference, accompanied by their advisers, Mr. Coughlan and Mr. Saunders. At the Conference Everett Andrew was elected as treasurer for next year's regional conference to be held at the Asilamar near Monterey.
